

The Colonnade

Volume VIII. Georgia State College for Women, Milledgeville, Ga., Tuesday, APRIL 25, 1933

NO. 27.

Delegates From G. S. C. W. Attend Conference At Camp Wilkins

Annual Meeting of State Christian Associations Held In Athens.

By Sue Mansfield

One more glorious week-end at Camp Wilkins is past, and once more we must wait twelve months for another such wonderful and inspirational time. And these words can't carry the real feeling and meaning that the conference gives you.

From the minute the "Beauty" Special bus pulled away from G. S. C. W. and the envious crowd till the same bus drove up Sunday night and the listless delegates finally got off, the girls were keyed up to a high pitch of excitement and fun. Why, any one that is the least bit interested in the trip and conference, and only asks "Did you have a good time?" is in for an hour or two of "raving."

But don't get the impression that the week end was one of revelry and fun altogether. The speakers and companionship were splendid for all. This was the eighth annual student officer training conference, and we can just regret we haven't attended the past meetings, and more than one more of the future ones. The idea for the first conference was promoted at the University in 1925, and has been held there ever since.

When the bus drove up to the camp about 5:15, our spirit was somewhat downed because of the fact that the girls were going to stay at Soule Hall instead of the camp. But after all the boy's tales of the cold, we were glad of the steam heat.

All the delegates certainly owe a big vote of thanks to the house mother of Soule Hall and the girls there for the kindness and attention they paid us. You'd have thought that we were the owners of the dormitory!

Everyone ate supper at the cafeteria in Dawson Hall that night and attended the first meeting of the conference at Dawson Hall instead of at the camp. Printed sheets of songs were given everyone and the meeting started off with some songs and a welcome from B. Weems, Tech, president of the conference this year. Then the high-light of the whole conference was begun with the first talk of Dr. E. McNeill Poteat, pastor of the Raleigh Baptist Church, and principal speaker, whose theme was "Living as a Christian in a Modern World."

After Dr. Poteat's talk and a short closing program, the delegates adjourned to the lobby of Soule Hall where they were entertained at a reception. Games to get acquainted were played and a skit by Claude Broach, student at Georgia, was presented. The members of the Wesleyan delegation presented a delightful little play "Cats," in which the traditional nine lives of that feline were dramatized in an amusing and entertaining

(Continued on Back Page)

Students Attend Play At G. M. C.

"All Aboard," a comedy written and directed by Mrs. Hines, was presented in the G. M. C. auditorium, Thursday, April 20, under the auspices of the U. D. C.

The scene of the comedy was Union Railroad Station through which passed the stream of humanity.

The college girls were allowed to attend the performance, and with the limited number of tickets available for the G. S. C. group, all who could get "aboard" the line, enjoyed the entertainment.

Y. W. C. A. NAMES GROUP CHAIRMEN AND CO-CHAIRMEN

The Y. W. C. A. cabinet and commission have been assigned committees for next year and an opportunity will be given the students at an early date to sign up for the one they would like to work with.

Christine Goodson is head of the Membership Department and Amelie Burrus and Viola James are chairmen of the Membership Committee; Mary Helen Mitch and Esther Adams, the Hospitality Committee.

The executive of the Religious Department is Flora Nelson and in her group come the following committees: Morning Watch, with Kathleen Shepherd, chairman and Sara Owen, co-chairman; Bible Study, Dorothy Maddox, chairman and Minnie Ann Irvin, co-chairman; Choir, Viola Carruth, chairman; Dorothy Seymour, co-chairman; Worship, Virginia Peacock, chairman, Rosalie Sutton, co-chairman.

Sue Mansfield heads the Publicity Department and chairmen of committees in that department are Claudia Keith, and Mary Faver, Bulletin Board; and Anna Everett and Madeline Provano, Poster.

Frances Dixon is executive of Social Service. In her department are the Infirmary Committee (Continued on Back Page)

Health Club Meets With Miss Scott

The Health Club met Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Agnes Scott. The program was on "Physical Education in Other Lands," and the countries discussed were Sweden, Carrie Hitchcock; Germany, Helen Cartigan; and India, Miss Frances Thaxton.

After the program ice cream and cake were served.

PHYSICS CLASS VISITS MACON WEATHER BUREAU

The Physics 25 class visited the weather bureau and other points of interest in Macon, Monday. The class includes Mary Jane Lane, Frances Allaban, Frances Garten, Reginia Wilson, and Evelyn Mathias.

(Continued on Back Page)

Dr. E. H. Scott Treasurer G. E. A.

Other Faculty Members Attend Convention In Savannah April 21.

Dr. E. H. Scott was named treasurer of the Georgia Educational Association which met in Savannah, April 21 and 22. M. R. Little, Louisville, was made president of the association: Miss Allie Mann, Atlanta, vice-president; and Mrs. Kate Brown, Henry county superintendent, director.

At the convention M. D. Col schools, offered a plan for raising the educational requirements for teachers in the public school system. He said that the general policy of the State Department is to eliminate the certificates requiring little preparation and to reduce the number of certificates. "It is hoped that at the end of two years the lowest certificate which is now based upon credit for a year of college work, may be dropped." Mr. Colins said.

The past president of the association, Superintendent J. E. Mathis, in a talk to the delegates urged more character building in the schools. "More progress has been made with material things than with human nature," he stated. It is therefore necessary that we prepare the child for the part he must play in the social, economic, and civic world." He also advocated developing the pupil so that he would become "self-directive."

Those from G. S. C. W. attending the convention in Savannah were Dr. Scott, Dr. J. L. Beeson, Dr. W. T. Wynn, Miss Mabel Rogers, Miss Vera Hunt, Miss Clara Morris, Miss Clara Hasslock, Miss Rosabel Burch, Mrs. Mabry Harper, and Mrs. Aline Owen.

CLASS OFFICERS FORM COUNCIL

President and Head Matron Approve Government Plan Adopted By Students.

"Government by the people, for the people, and of the people" will to a larger extent be realized on this campus in the future since a Student Council composed of the officers of the four classes has been organized. This organization has for its sole purpose the rendering of greater and more effective service to the student body, not only in handling matters of discipline but in attaining a more unified or concerted action of the four classes on all campus problems.

The plan which was presented in chapel on Thursday April 13, by Frances Adams, senior class president was sanctioned by President J. L. Beeson, and Mrs. E. C. Beaman, Head Matron, and was formally accepted by the student body on that date.

Under the new organization the president of the senior class will act as president of the Council; president of junior class, (Continued on Back Page)

Emory University Glee Club Gives Enjoyable Concert Here

Archery Contest To Open Soon

An archery tournament is being planned by the athletic committee of the Y. W. C. A. This announcement was made by Irene Farren, the new head of the committee, and Kathleen Roberts, co-chairman.

The tournament is open to everyone and for the next two weeks there will be instructions for beginners at 2:30 on Monday and 9 o'clock on Saturday.

A prize worth working for will be presented to the winner. Further announcements will be made later concerning the exact date of the tournament.

COLLEGE CLUB PRESENTS SKIT IN SAVANNAH

The G. S. C. W. Home Economics club presented a skit, "History of Home Economics in Georgia," at the meeting of the G. H. E. A. in Savannah Friday, April 20.

Marie Patterson was master of ceremonies and those taking part in the skit were Betty Gaisser, representing Governor John B. Gordon who signed the bill providing for the establishment of this college; Tallulah Taylor, as Miss Frankie Williams, the first rural school home economics teacher; Kathryn Hodges, a camping club girl; Beatrice Droughn, Senator Hoke Smith, and Florence Shearouse, Congressman Dudley Hughes, the two representatives who introduced the bill providing for vocational education; Sara Talley as Miss Mary E. Creswell; and Ruth Cheshire, Myrtle DeLouch, and Ethel Toc as student club members, Elizabeth McKoon was the stage manager.

In London the group appeared in such famous playhouses as Queen's hall, the Aeolian hall, and the Coliseum, the latter being the world's largest playhouse.

While in England, it was called upon to make twenty four phonograph records for English concerns, and it has since made several records for the Victor company.

Among the distinguished people who have heard and enjoyed its concerts are the late President Coolidge and Mrs. Coolidge, former vice-president Curtis, Lady Astor, and the Duke of Manchester.

The complete program was as follows:

Part I

1. a. Trust in the Lord—After an Air from Zerxes—Handel.
- b. Adoramus Te—Palestrina.
- c. Sleep of the Child Jesus—Old Breton Carol—Gevaert.
- d. Creation's Hymn—Beethoven.

2. Serenade du Tsigrane (Gypsy Serenade)—Valdez—Joseph.
3. Tally-Ho—Franco Leoni.
- b. Shadow March — Daniel Protheroe.

- e. A Spirit Flower—Campbell Tipton.
4. Concerto in A Minor—First Movement—Grieg—Tom Brumby.
5. Songs of the Negro—Selected.

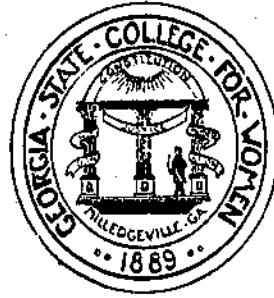

Part II

6. Musical Moments—Selected. Chester Kitchings.
7. Ojibway Scalp Dance—Dagger Dance (Natoma)—Victor Herbert—Marion Brooke.

Part III

- Trial By Jury (Complete Opera in One Act)—Gilbert and Sullivan.

The Colonnade

Published Weekly By Students Of The
GEORGIA STATE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN
Corner Hancock and Clark Sts.
Milledgeville, Ga.

Entered as second-class matter October
30, 1928, at the post office Milledgeville,
Ga., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION RATE
$1.00 Per Year

EDITORIAL STAFF
Editor-In-Chief Dorothy Maddox
Managing Editor Claudia Kest
News Editor Alice Brin
Associate Editor Jonibel Stevens
Reporters—

Heila Ellis, Frances Holsenbeck, Pauline
Reynolds, Virginia Tanner, Mary
Louise Dunn, Althea Smith, Wilma Proctor.

Y. W. C. A. Editor Eulalie McDowell
Alumnae Editor Lavonia Newman

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager Marjorie Emilie

Typists—Elizabeth Wakeford, Benicio Johnston,

Patty Somerour.

Exchange Editor Louise Mannheim

Advertising Manager Irene Farrar

Advertising Assistant Katie Israel

Circulation Manager Sue Mansfield

Circulation Assistants—

Frances Dixon, Grace Paulk, Mildred
Parker, Leona Shepherd, Agnes Mc-
Millan, Martha Phillips, Vivian Yates,
Mary Posey.

New Leaders

No one who witnessed the installation of next year's Sophomore Commission could leave the simple and beautiful service without a feeling of belief in the new leadership, and an increased confidence in Youth. There was a sincerity and holiness about the ceremony which inspired hope, and optimism and forward-looking thoughts.

These Y. W. C. A. leaders, who will be the campus leaders, have been chosen because of their outstanding qualities of leadership, moral character, high ideals, talent, and dependability. The student body is looking to the new cabinet and commission for guidance through the coming year, and if they continue the work in the same spirit of optimism and enthusiasm in which they have begun, there is no doubt that the confidence is well placed.

Having chosen these representatives, it now behoves the student body to support them and co-operate with them in a way that will encourage their maximum accomplishment. If there are to be leaders, there must be followers; and if those leaders are to be at their best, the followers must rally to their support willingly and enthusiastically.

Working together in the spirit of fellowship and sincerity in which they have begun, the cabinet and commission, with the co-operation of the student body, should lead on to better things.

The Fate Of X, Y, Z

As in the season around Hallowe'en witches are supposed to be inhabiting the atmosphere, around June at a teachers' college, mysterious and unseen superintendents are supposed to be inhabiting the atmosphere holding the fate of unsuspecting graduates in their hands.

One might imagine for a moment, superintendents lurking some morning in the corners of the auditorium during chapel, and incidentally selecting prospective teachers from those who make oratorical addresses in the way of "lost and found" and "meet-under-the-light with cup and spoon" announcements.

X gets up to make her announcement, and instead of making it to the entire student body, she keeps her eyes glued on the girl directly in front of her, all the while acting as though there were some joke between the two, to the exclusion of the others. Y gets up with a snappy announcement that she means to have put across, and does put across except for the fact, if the seat to which her death-like grasp is attached were to suddenly give way, it would be the end of Y's dramatic career. Z is most sincere of all, and most conscientious of all, but to make her announcement, she gets in the very back of the auditorium under the balcony where only about a fifth of the students hear her.

Active Fortitude Versus Emotionalism

If I should die, think only this of me:
that there's some corner of a foreign field

that is forever England—Rupert Brooke,

Rupert Brooke, poet-soldier of England died in April 1915 on the little island of Skyros at the age of twenty-eight. He wrote the immortal sonnet from which these lines are taken not long before he died and a simple marble slab that marks his grave bears them. That is the sort of national spirit that endures. That is not the spirit of the man who volunteers for service when the band is playing and the colors streaming and a big crowd is looking on. Brooke meant a soldier, yes, but much more than that he meant the deep loyalty that should live in the heart of every man for his country in time of war and in time of peace.

We recommend "Sister" Barron as Mr. Culbertson's assistant; also, J. Pigue goes with "Sister" as assistant. The height of bridge-ability is reached when some brazen creature has a grand slam and makes it an 'a' that's just what those two specimen of Jessiehood did.

We recommend the staff room painter as official spirit resuscitator of the institution. It isn't every day in the week that we have the pleasure of welcoming such columnists as our dear friend Phillip back to the ranks even if he is only a shadow of his former self. Phillip never could keep away from Luckies. The advertisements, we mean.

We recommend the staff room painter as official spirit resuscitator of the institution. It isn't every day in the week that we have the pleasure of welcoming such columnists as our dear friend Phillip back to the ranks even if he is only a shadow of his former self. Phillip never could keep away from Luckies. The advertisements, we mean.

Wonder who unknocked the nine men at the U. of California? It's a pretty situation when the census taker starts asking such personal questions of timid manhood. Tsk, tsk, Are they bragging? Maybe they should read the advertisements. It might help them to lose such a coveted title. Oh yeah! (Even if that did go out in 1928.)

That's beautiful poetry the freshmen are contributing, Olive, but you should see some of that handed Mary Rogers. It puts Milton, Keats, Coleridge, Byron, Tennyson, and Poe in the shade of the same budding young genius. Ask Mary Ethlyn about it.

Don't forget to fan the Emory Glee Club as gleefully as usual. We'd hate to think that the increase in stamp consumption was due to any other incentive, even if the bolds are chopping ar' the leaves are full mit foliage and apples-to-be. There's a won'erful subject for a term paper. What effect does spring have on stamp consumption. Woe is me!

Determentally, as usual
Merry Moude

the aspect of a free and unrivaled confederacy she bids fair to increase in her prosperity as the resources of her rich and varied soil are developed.

"Does not the heart of the patriot kindle with emotion, when he throws his glance along the vista of futurity, and inquire what will be her condition when the year 1933 is ushered into existence? Teeming with wealth and population, enriched by the works of art, embellished with canals and railroads, her condition will be viewed by the patriotic of that day, we trust, with the proud feelings which now gladden the heart of the patriot of 1833. May we not hope, too, that the Union, now composed of twenty-four states, will one hundred years hence present the governments of Europe the proud spectacle of fifty independent states, extended even to the Pacific, knit together by the ties of a common activity, and a common kindred of feelings and interests."

Campus Crusts

So at last a really phenomenal event has cast its shadows upon the greenery and the tea-room wherin took place the tea for Dr. Edwards and the students from the University of Georgia who were in Milledgeville to study mental cases at the State Sanitarium. Whew! The world's longest sentence. More whews! Anyway, as we were about to low, it's getting to be a very liberal attitude amongst officials when we are permitted to trip the light fantastic with real, genuine mentality students. Appreciation an' thanks are now in order from all concerned.

On the recommendations: We recommend Virginia Tanner as the official debater and designer of debates, rebuttals and whatnots (we've used same enough to omit hypens) of any institution with which she may become connected in the near or far future. Also, radio stations wanting to use their valuable minutes to the best avail would do well to consider Miss Tanner as announcer for advertisers. We can vouch for the fact that she out-Floyds Floyd Gibbons.

We recommend "Sister" Barron as Mr. Culbertson's assistant; also, J. Pigue goes with "Sister" as assistant. The height of bridge-ability is reached when some brazen creature has a grand slam and makes it an 'a' that's just what those two specimen of Jessiehood did.

We recommend the staff room painter as official spirit resuscitator of the institution. It isn't every day in the week that we have the pleasure of welcoming such columnists as our dear friend Phillip back to the ranks even if he is only a shadow of his former self. Phillip never could keep away from Luckies. The advertisements, we mean.

Signs will be placed in prominent positions and everyone will be given an ample opportunity to choose the committee she desires. See the "Y" bulletin board in Parks Hall.

Miss Bobbie Burns and Miss Mary Bennett, who are teaching at Cochran, Georgia, visited on the campus this weekend.

Miss Irene De Shong was the guest of her sister, Miss Elizabeth De Shong, for a short while last Thursday.

Miss Rebecca Higginson, Industrial Secretary of the Y. W. C. A. at Macon, was the guest of Mrs. Polly Moss Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Chambers, Emily Renfroe, and faculty members including Dr. and Mrs. Benson, Dr. and Mrs. Scott, Dr. and Mrs. Webber, and Dr. Bolton, received. Music was furnished during the afternoon by Polly Reynolds and Lelia Hinton.

To the motorist of pedestrian who insists upon "maintaining his right of way" it is well first to recall the epitaph:

"Here lies the body of William Day,

Who died maintaining his right of way,

For sunshine is brightest after de rains,

An clouds tho' dark soon pass away,

But he's just as dead as if he were wrong."

"MAINTAINING THE RIGHT OF WAY"

To the motorist of pedestrian who insists upon "maintaining his right of way" it is well first to recall the epitaph:

"Here lies the body of William Day,

Who died maintaining his right of way,

For sunshine is brightest after de rains,

An clouds tho' dark soon pass away,

But he's just as dead as if he were wrong."

G. S. C. W. FOR THE ALUMNAE

THE ALUMNAE FOR G. S. C. W.

Through the Week With the

Violin Recital Given By Natalie Purdon

Miss Natalie Purdon gave her junior violin recital in the auditorium, Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. She was assisted by Miss Margaret Mosley.

Opening the program Miss Purdon played Handel's "Sonata in E." Fine skill in technique was shown in her rendition of the composition. The next two numbers were "Minuet 'a l' Antico" and "Mummuring Zephyrs" by Miss Mosley. Her playing was characterized by delicacy yet truthness of touch.

Speaking of Vespers did you see the installation services of Sophomore Commission last Thursday? We're expecting big things from the sophomores next year.

It isn't long now till the debate. Personally I think I'll patronize the "Y" library for a while, so I'll at least know when to applaud. I'm one of those people who thinks capitalism has to do with severing the head from the neck.

Don't forget to sign up for your committee! You don't want to feel left out when the fun starts. And that won't be long.

Committees! Once again the Y. W. C. A. gives an opportunity to every girl to express her personality and to make a contribution through group participation in all campus activities.

Today is the great day when the entire student body is invited to sign up for Y committees. For the girl who can draw, there is a place, and for the girl who can sing, dance, or act. If someone has a plan for dealing with other people, she is needed. If she likes to talk or is shy and retiring, she is needed. If she is the most blase senior of the greenest freshman, she can make the Y a bigger success by her presence.

Miss Minnie Ann Irvin spent the week-end at her home in Sandersville.

Miss Annie Barnes spent the week-end at her home in Newnan, Georgia.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Turner of Atlanta spent last Sunday with their daughter, Miss Mary Turner.

Miss Lelia Bunce and Mr. Turner E. Smith of Atlanta were dinner guests at the practice home April 16.

Miss Bobbie Burns and Miss Mary Bennett, who are teaching at Cochran, Georgia, visited on the campus this weekend.

Miss Irene De Shong was the guest of her sister, Miss Elizabeth De Shong, for a short while last Thursday.

Miss Rebecca Higginson, Industrial Secretary of the Y. W. C. A. at Macon, was the guest of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Chambers, Emily Renfroe, and faculty members including Dr. and Mrs. Benson, Dr. and Mrs. Scott, Dr. and Mrs. Webber, and Dr. Bolton, received. Music was furnished during the afternoon by Polly Reynolds and Lelia Hinton.

The Education Club entertained the members of Dr. Edward's class in Abnormal Psychology from the University of Georgia at a tea last Wednesday afternoon from 5:30 to 6:30 o'clock in the tea room. The officers over going over to G. M. C. Thursday night.

3. A certain member of the faculty displaying a new haircut.

4. Some brand new equipment come into the gym department.

5. Quite a few proud recipients of bunny rabbits, novelty boxes of candy, and what-not. (It must be wonderful)

In Memory of Alice

Tell me not in mournful numbers That dear Alice is no more, That good god who sweetly slumbered,

You can't be sure, but if he acts indifferent or cold, you do the same. Naturally he'll seek some kind of amusement but make him think you are too.

Never want to be sure of them you won't like him nearly so well,

Lotta

Philip Space,

You, dear sir, asked me how to get a man—before Easter if possible. I'm very sorry I couldn't answer sooner, but the letters must be answered in order.

In catching a man there are several ways: the salt method;

the "come-hither-look" method; the "Oh you great big wonderful you" method; the "please help me out" method; and the "only friends to become lovers" method.

And of course there are others that have no names.

And if I know what I'm talking about, you don't have any trouble,

Lotta

Additional Relics At GSCW Museum

Hilda Hamlett Gives Piano Recital

A large, appreciative audience attended the senior piano-forte recital of Miss Hilda Hamlett, Tuesday evening. Miss Dorothy Sapp, soprano, assisted.

The program was opened by the rendition of a complicated selection from Bach followed by Weber's "Polacca Brillante" Opus 72. The next two selections were vocal numbers, Firestone's "In My Garden" and Smith's "Alpine Rose," rendered by Miss Sapp whose voice portrayed delightful lyric qualities. Miss Tucker accompanied at the piano.

In closing Miss Hamlett played Beethoven's "Sanatis" Opus 26 with brilliant capability, well-trained innate ability has made Miss Hamlett an accomplished musician.

Freshman Column By JANE CASSELS

Dear Unpopular,

Yours is an age-old problem. I know not how to tell you what to do. Go home with your roommate; read advertisements; cultivate an eye for miasmas—come hither, and a dreamy look; and get addresses out of Western Story Magazines. Many a rich romance has budded from such.

Lotta

Dear Miss Mix-Up

My fellow has stopped writing me, and I can't imagine what is wrong. When I was home Spring Holidays he professed amorous feelings for me. What do you advise?

Worrying.

My dear,

Don't worry — "everythings going to be all right," drop him a card with "WHY?"

He will be so curious as to the sender that he will find out, his interest will be furthered by the search, and a letter visit, flowers, etc. will follow.

Lotta

Dear Miss Mix-Up,

When you come away to school and are deeply in love how can you be sure of your man?

Petunia,

Petunia, my child,

Students Attend Wilkins Conference

(Continued From Front Page)

way. Concluding the program, the Tech Y singers sang several selections.

Breakfast was served the girls at Dawson Hall and the boys at Wilkins Saturday morning from 7:45 to 8:30, but at 9:00 the girls went to Wilkins for the morning meetings. After a short worship, Dr. Potent continued his interesting subject. At 10:30, various announcements as to the changes in the program and the meeting places of the special interests groups were made, and the committees for the nominating of next year's officers, resolutions and meeting place for next year were appointed. The girls met together in Wilkins main hall to make reports on the relation of the Y. W. C. A. to local, county, state, nation and world organizations. The meeting was led by Miss Carrie Meares, Southern Regional Secretary of the Y. W. C. A., and talks on the subject were made by Miss Elizabeth Smith, Who is associated with Miss Meares; and Miss Flora Hatcher, business girls secretary of the Y. W. C. A. in Atlanta.

Lunch was served to the entire delegation at Dawson Hall. After dinner, interest group meetings were continued in Dawson Hall. Due to the rain in the afternoon, the scavenger hunt that had been planned was called off.

After dinner for the entire delegation at Dawson hall, the night meeting was held at Wilkins. Here the meeting opened with some selections by the Y Singers and Dr. Potent made his last address, bringing to a point his three talks in a most interesting and inspirational manner. He took his subject from the three view points: our relations to the universe, to the individual and in the social world. Thought was stimulated to daring to test honesty, Jesus' way of life.

Interest was stimulated by the following quotations: "Truth is the meaning and value of fact," "God is intelligent, purposeful, loving will."

"A life is an ellipse with God as one focus and your neighbor as another." "Personality is not it."

Sunday morning the Morning Watch services and breakfast were separate, the boys meeting at Wilkins and the girls at Dawson. The last meeting then opened with selections by the Y singers and student talks by Margaret K. Smith of G. S. C. W.; Jimmy May, Emory; and Claude Broach, University of Georgia.

The nominating committee made its report with the following officers for next year: Emma Stephens, Wesleyan, president; a delegate from the Teacher's College at Statesboro, vice-president; Sarah Hambright, Brenau, secretary; and James Tolbert, Emory, treasurer. A discussion as to the meeting place of next year's conference was held, but no definite place was settled. Miss Flora Hatcher closed the conference with a final talk.

After dinner at Dawson Hall, the delegates talked, rode, made pictures, or packed, and by four o'clock, the last bus had driven off, after another glorious week end at Camp Wilkins.

The delegation that represented G. S. C. W. was the largest this school has had, twenty five making the trip. The following girls went: Winifred Chauncy, Polly headed by Marie Patterson, chairman, and Harriet Mancy, co-chairman and the Social Service Committee with Jo Peacock, chairman, and Caroline Ridley, co-chairman.

CLASS OFFICERS FORM COUNCIL

(Continued From Front Page)

Miriam Lanier is executive of the Christian World Education Department. The three committees in that group are Race, headed by Lillian Dillard and Dorothy Allen; Industry, Billy Jennings and Nan Glass; and C. W. E., Margaret Edwards and Eunice Slegg.

Ruth Vinson, treasurer of the W. C. A., is in charge of finance and chairmen of the Finance Committee are Elizabeth Spier and Louise Donchon.

The Social Department is under the direction of Dot Smith and committees in her department include Social with Julia Datley and Johnny Cooley, chairman; Athletic, Irene Farren and Kathleen Roberts; Dramatic, Evelyn Turner and Georgia Eden Walker.

Sara Ryan, secretary of the "Y", and Martha Tiguor are in charge of the library in the "Y" room.

The chairman of each committee is a member of cabinet and the co-chairman is selected from sophomore Commission.

Y. W. C. A. NAMES GROUP CHAIKMEN AND COCHAIRMEN

(Continued From Front Page)

vice president; sophomore president, corresponding secretary; and freshman president, recording secretary. The remaining officers will serve as members of the Council and will have equal voting powers. A regular time of meeting for the group has been specified as every Friday afternoon at 5:30, in Ennis Recreation hall, and all cases of class discipline will be heard before the entire Council. In this way it is hoped that greater justice and fairness to all will be insured. The Council purposes to deal not alone with problems of this type, but with any and all movements for general campus betterment.

It has been decided that no changes are to take place this years as regards self government —this may be submitted next fall.

But the enthusiastic and whole-hearted support of the student

Moss, Margaret K. Smith, Dot

Smith, Irene Farren, Lillian Dillard, Dody Dixon, Claudia Keith,

Christine Goodson, Viola Chrull,

Josephine Redwine, Viola James,

Josephine and Virginia Peacock,

Lilly Jennings, Grace Pfleiffer,

Julia Lanier, Flora Nelson,

Margaret Edwards, Rosaline Sutton,

Grace Webb, Juia Bailey,

Lillian Jordan, Jane Cassells, and

Sue Mansfield.

FRALEY'S FOR THE BEST SEE US

Odorless Dry Cleaners

THREE DRESSES $1.00

G. S. C. W. To Hold Strong Position

Dr. J. L. Beeson Retains Presidency in State-Wide Shake-Up By Board of Regents.

Abolishing several educational institutions, combining others and slashing appropriations, the Board of Regents the past week put the seal of approval of the Georgia State College for Women and authorized continuance of the summer school, reelected Dr. J. L. Beeson president of the institution, and otherwise sanctioned the work of the great school here. While general regret is expressed over the curtailment of educational activities in many directions, there is a marked degree of satisfaction felt locally over the fact that the college here goes on uninterrupted.

Dr. J. L. Beeson, who has been connected with the college for nearly forty years, and president for the past several years has enlisted cordial support and hearty cooperation of his staff in the economic plan which has been found necessary in the conduct of the educational, as well as in all other affairs of the state, and the entire faculty is joining in a movement to maintain the high degree of efficiency at the college. Students from every county in the state attend the college here.

Seven of the district schools are abolished by order of the Board of Regents, one new school established through consolidation, the Georgia State College of Agriculture and the Georgia Teachers College at Athens, are also were embraced in the state university, while the Georgia State Medical College at Augusta was discontinued.

In line with the program of the G. S. C. W. preparations are going forward rapidly for the operation of the summer school at the institution, which will open June 13, following the closing exercises of the college the week previous. Dr. Beeson and Dean Scott, who directs the work are expecting a large attendance at the summer school for the coming session.

Hoi Polloi

Conductor (helping stout lady on car): Yer should take yeast, ...other ter 'ep yer to rise better.

Stout Lady: Take some yourself, lad, and then yer'd be better bred.

body in the proposed scheme may go far in perpetuating for this campus an ideal worth striving for: "Each individual busy at her highest natural level of successful achievement in order that she may be happy, useful, and good."

Imperial Hotel Peachtree at Ivy Street ATLANTA, GA.

Atlanta's Friendly Hotel

Rates from $1.50

Garage Dining Room

Owned and Operated By

Emory University

Robert Carpenter,
Manager

Tribute To Georgia Writer's Idea Seen In Names Of Children Of Porto Rico Commissioner-Elect

That there will be universal interest aroused in the subject of naming children after Ideas, is indicated in the widespread publicity that is being given the four daughters of Santiago Iglesias, commissioner-elect from Porto Rico. The first notable suggestion of this plan to be given extensive circulation was conveyed through the book of Mrs. Gertrude Capen Whitney, famous Georgia author, of Augusta, in one of her productions, "John, John and His Son John." Mrs. Whitney, popular with hundreds of students of the Georgia State College for Women in Millidgeville, has written many books, all of which are in the magnificent library of the institution here, among them being "The House of Lansell," "Above the Shame of Circumstance," and others.

In a recent foreword to her social column in The Augusta Chronicle, Mrs. Ella A. Baxter, has the following to say on the subject; all of which will be of considerable local interest here:

"When Mrs. Gertrude Capen Whitney's novel 'John, John and His Son John' appeared amidst the wealth of favorable criticism and comment, the principal adverse criticism was that it was an unnatural idea that any one would ever name a child after an idea.

"Of course, it has been done thousands of times, but not to the knowledge of the people who criticized the idealism of the eldest John of the three in her story. But here comes Santiago Iglesias, commissioner-elect from Puerto Rico who expresses his admiration for American ideals by naming his daughters Justice, Equality, Liberty and America.

"Idealism exists in the world after all and it is a blessed thing that this is so. Readers will re-

MILLER'S 5c to $1.00 Store WHITE GLOVES, PURSES AND BELTS 50c

MOTHER

The Sweetest Word in the English Language—

Send Her One of R. H. WOOTTEN'S Mothers Day Cards—

TRAVEL BY BUS PHONE 351

Tennilles Bus Station

SNOW'S

Winter Coats Cleaned at reasonable Prices—Placed in waterproof Bags—FREE.
Tree Cleaning—Ruth Higginbotham.

HARPER & HARPER For Shoe Repairing SEE US

BILL'S KARMELKORN

Lectrokooked Hot Dawgs with Chile, etc., 5c—They are Better Hamburgers that can't Be Beat—

Free Cream to Flora Nelson
Bill Appreciates Your Patronage

Compliments Of Smith's Grocery

WE CARRY A COMPLETE LINE OF ROLLINS RUN STOP HOSIERY
69c, $1.00, $1.39
Off Black and Other New Shades—
Your Satisfaction Our Aim.

COLLEGE DEPT. STORE

100 doz. New Hose just Arrived, $1.00 values—

Off Black, 45 Gauge Full Fashioned Picot

Now On Sale—49c.

If you want the best, shop at

E. E. BELL'S